JOHNSTON RITES WILL BE HELD SUNDAYProminent Clearmont Farmer Died
in St. Joseph Following Gall Stone Operation.

The body of Colin Johnston, who died at 11 o'clock yesterday morning at a hospital in St. Joseph, arrived in Clearmont this morning. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Methodist Church in Burlington Junction, conducted by the Rev. E. R. Ingram, pastor of the Clearmont Methodist church. Burial will be in the Ohio cemetery.

Mr. Johnston underwent an operation for gall stones a week ago Tuesday at St. Joseph and seemed to be improving until heart and kidney complications developed. He is survived by a son, Elmer C. Johnston, living at home, a sister, Miss Helen Johnston, and one brother, Morris Johnston of Omaha.

Colin Johnston was born in Pickaway county, Ohio, in 1857, and was a son of James and Jane (Maxwell) Johnston. In 1867 the family moved to the farm in the northeast part of Nodaway township which Mr. Johnston owned at the time of his death. He was reared by his parents and secured his education partly in Platt county, Illinois, where the school was conducted in his father's house, but the major part of his school attendance was at Clearmont. Mr. Johnston gave considerable attention to the breeding and raising of Poland China hogs and Durham cattle, along with his other farming operations. In 1889 he married Julia Clark, whose death occurred in 1894.

TAKES UP MEASURE
REVISING ASSEMBLYPROPOSES SOME IMPORTANT
CHANGES IN LEGISLATURE.

TO CUT LEGISLATIVE COST

Special Sessions Would Be Limited to Thirty Days and Expense
Maximum Set.

Jefferson City, Aug. 19.—The state constitutional convention yesterday dropped consideration of the judicial redistricting bill, under debate for nearly two weeks, and took up the measure submitted by the committee on legislation. This committee measure has only to do with legislative functions and proposes some important changes.

The convention so nearly agreed upon the changes that it is deemed quite certain that not more than two amendments will finally be considered. The proposed changes of consequence are:

During regular sessions of the legislature, members are to receive $10 a day in place of $5 but only for sixty in place of seventy days. Special sessions are limited to thirty days. Now there is no limit. The length of revising sessions are cut down from one hundred and twenty to ninety days. During regular session the expenses of the senate are fixed at not exceeding $300 a day and during special sessions at $150. The homes is limited to $400 a day during regular sessions and $200 a day during special sessions. Under the limitations provided the number of employees of the legislature would be about 130, or less than one-half of what are usually given jobs. These changes were all agreed to without debate after some explanations had been made.

A point of contention is the power proposed to be given to the governor of filling vacancies in the legislature by death. Now such vacancies are only filled by special elections. Dr. Alonzo Tabbs of Gasconade and J. B. Burks of Farmington contended that such a change would place a dangerous power in the hands of the governor.

The speaker and speaker pro tem of the house are made constitutional officials, a provision that does not now exist, although the old constitution recognizes the speaker. Under the proposal both would be entitled to $3.50 a day above the legislative pay. One of the changes agreed to without discussion set the state fiscal year from July 1 to June 30 in place of from January 1 to December 31.

MARYVILLE MEN THINK
NODAWAY STILL LOOK GOODEnroute to Sedalia in Car They Find Nothing Better Than Noda-way County.

"The farther away we get from home the better Nodaway County looks to us" is the first word which has been received in Maryville from Geo. A. Pickens and his party who left yesterday morning to take the Nodaway County agriculture films to Sedalia to be shown during the State Fair.

The party evidently had quite a trip and hit some extremely rough roads on the way to Sedalia as they sent back the report that "when the roads are so rough that you knock off and puncture your spare tire 'it's some rough—we had that happen to us."

Mr. Pickens said that south of St. Joseph about ten or twelve miles they met I. V. Moore and wife with their car just balancing over a brink about twenty feet deep and that they had quite a narrow escape.

SENATE EXPECTED TO PASS TARIFF BILL TODAYOpposing Democrats Claim It Will Cost
Consuming Public Two Billions Dollars Annually.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The ponderous McCumber permanent tariff bill will be enacted into law by the Senate late this afternoon. The Republican supporters declare that it will permanently protect American enterprise against the invasion of cheap foreign competition and will give the American farmer a living income. Tariff exponents say that it will produce four hundred million dollars annual revenue.

The Democratic opposition charged that the measure would tax the American consuming public two billion dollars annually and would benefit only a few. They also say that raising the cost of living destroys America's foreign markets.

Rail Executive Denies That Gentlemen's Agreement With Shopmen
Has Been Made.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The president's pronouncement that the government is prepared to use every power to keep the trains moving is his last word in the present rail crisis administration spokesmen asserted today. The president for the present time does not want to embarrass the efforts of a peaceful adjustment that is being made in the New York joint conference.

New York, Aug. 19.—An unqualified denial that a gentlemen's agreement exists between the railway executives and unions by which the striking shopmen will return to work with seniority rights unimpaired, was made this afternoon by Robert Pinkard, assistant to DeWitt Cuyler, head of the Railway Executives Association.

Representatives of the five large brotherhoods, who have been working in behalf of the striking shopmen, have brought forth a plan to be considered by the rail executives. The officers of rail executives have summoned the heads of 148 railroads throughout the country to meet in New York next Tuesday to consider the proposal.

In some quarters close to the conference it was said that the acceptance of this proposal by the executives would mean an immediate return of the shopmen with full seniority rights in addition to retaining those hired since then.

The rail executives have come forth with a proposal for the striking shopmen to consider by next week, but neither side will officially divulge the proposals made to the other. The brotherhoods were told to return next Wednesday for an answer to their proposal.

The petition alleges that Cunningham worked for Jackson as a farm hand from November 18, 1919, until January, 1922, or twenty-six months and a half. The plaintiff figures his wages were reasonable worth $50 a month.

According to information from Ellis G. Cook, attorney for plaintiff, Cunningham is an orphan and made his home here for some time with the Shupes. He was later without a home and was taken in charge of by John Dowden, who was then probation officer of the juvenile court. Mr. Dowden secured the boy a position on the farm of Mr. Jackson, Mr. Cook states.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

REAL ESTATE SPECULATION.

Instances are frequently reported of people who make large sums of money by buying unimproved land in the outskirts of fast growing cities. It seems a most alluring way to gain riches. The land grows more valuable while the owner sleeps and he has to do nothing save possibly to mow the weeds.

But the great number of people who have lost on this form of investment shows how different it is to forecast the movements of population. The tract that seems likely to sell as a high class suburb, may be spoiled by careless development. Cities that seem on the way to great advancement, may be hit by failure of industry and enterprise. And the growth of cities toward certain localities may suddenly switch in another direction because of some unforeseen development.

As a general rule riches have to be won by some form of service to the people and idle land renders little service. If people who own such property will erect attractive houses on it they will get the real value of their holdings which, in the majority of cases, is more profitable than a long wait for population growth.

Some one should invent a safety match for Jack Dempsey's use.

A dispatch says "negro 106 enters crop exhibits at State fair." He will probably be labeled "crop of 1916."

An exchange advises it townspeople to "so live that when you come to die you death notice will not appear in the list of public improvements."

Bob Walton of the Armstrong Herald, who prides himself on the quality of his democracy and who was one of the most earnest supporters of Long for Senator, was asked the other day if he would support the ticket. His reply was that his conduct during the campaign would not be such as to make it necessary to hold up his ticket when he goes to the polls to vote.

In the general election this year Missouri will use the blanket ballot. All the tickets and candidates to be voted for will be printed on one large sheet. The chief difference in this and the old way is that it makes voting a mixed ticket easier. There will be a symbol at the head of each ticket and a cross at the head of the ticket is all that is necessary to "vote" straight. If, however, you desire to vote a mixed ticket, or as it is popularly called "scratch," you will make a cross in the square opposite the names you want to vote for regardless of the ticket they may be on. It is not necessary to write in any names. It will simply be a question of being able to make your mark.

JUDGE ELLISON KNOWN AS A GOLF PLAYER OF NOTE

Rock Fort Mail Says He Admits a Woeful Inability to Keep Count of the Strokes.
(Rock Fort Mail).

Judge W. C. Ellison drove over from Maryville Monday morning to look into matters pertaining to litigation which he represents in the approaching August term of Circuit Court, which convenes Monday, the 28th inst. The Judge, having won all the laurels possible in the field of cribbage contests, is now learning golf and boasts of his prowess with the educated shiny-club and little gutta percha ball. He admits a woeful inability to keep count of the number of strokes it takes him to negotiate a hole and says he once in a while loses track, until jerked up short by the fellow he's trying to beat. Furthermore, he says the beginner in golf has no business taking along a preacher for a twosome, as he tried it the other day, shot his ball into a sixteen-foot ditch filled with mud and then had to view the situation without saying a word. But it is his firm belief his failure to talk was accepted by the gentleman of cloth as a brief period of silent prayer. Heaven witness such a spectacle!

CONGRESS WILL TAKE ACTION.

Prompt Consideration of Measures Asked by Harding Is Promised.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Prompt consideration of measures to carry out the recommendations of President Harding in his address to congress on the industrial crisis yesterday was promised by Republican leaders.

Telegrams were sent to absent members of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce, urging them to return to Washington at once to take up legislation along the lines of the President's suggestions on the coal situation.

It appeared certain that the proposed pact-finding commission for the coal industry would be provided without serious delay. Considerable work along the lines of this suggestion already has been done.

Mr. Harding's address brought forth comment of a varying nature.

Senator Lodge, Massachusetts, Republican leader in the senate, said:

"I think it a most excellent message. I thoroughly agreed with all the President said at the close of the message as to the supremacy of the government of the United States and as to his intention to enforce the laws."

Senator Cummins, Iowa, chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee, commented: "I considered the President's message as a very strong, wise and decisive statement regarding the present situation. I thoroughly approve of what he said and suggested."

"It was a very good speech," commented Senator McCormick, Illinois.

"Every real American must applaud what the President said with respect to the necessity for preserving law and order," Senator Pomerene, Democrat of Ohio, asserted.

"In my judgment," Senator Watson, Indiana, Republican, declared, "the President expressed the views of nine-tenths of the American people."

"I think it was a very fine message. It fully and impartially revealed the situation and made recommendations and statements as to the government's policy which must be approved by persons who believe in protecting the public," was the comment of Senator Curtis of Kansas.

PEOPLE WANT ROAD WORK TO START AT ONCE

At Least Comments From Several Missouri Papers are to That Effect.

The people of Missouri are anxiously awaiting the actual beginning of work on the recently designated highways, or as it has been stated, "looking forward to the time when dirt will fly," according to accounts from representative newspapers throughout the state.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "The decision of the State Highway Commission approving the routes for 1,543 miles of primary roads, which represent painstaking technical work on the part of its engineers for many months past, will have a very general and cordial endorsement by the public. The system as thus laid out was the subject of an elaborate and largely attended hearing, at which ample opportunity was given to voice all objections. The result was so little valid criticism that the chart of the improved roads that are to be made was the unanimous choice of the commission almost without a change in detail."

Kansas City, Mo., Star: "Designations of the state primary roads as made by the State Highway Commission are identical with the recommendations of Chief Engineer Piepmeyer and Consulting Engineer Windrow, with one exception. The exception is in Newton County, north of Neosho, where the commission added ten miles of primary road, making connection with concrete roads already built into Joplin and Carthage."

Springfield, Mo., Leader: "Actual construction of Missouri's 1,500 miles of primary roads and federal secondary roads will begin the latter part of September. This was virtually assured when the Missouri State Highway Commission meeting adopted in full the report of the highway engineers. Contracts were ordered to be advertised and tentatively awarded immediately. These will be subject to approval at the next regular meeting of the commission in September."

Rich Hill, Mo., Review: "Of the one hundred and twenty-five letters and telegrams received by the State Highway Commission regarding the designation of the primary road system, only six have been in protest. The six have come from Jefferson City, Doniphan, Texas County, Osage County, Mansfield and Seymour. Messages of approval have come from Bolivar, Grove Springs, Marshall, Platte City, Cuba, Richland, Morrellton, Monett, Columbia, Maryville, Newburg and Chillicothe."

Brookfield, Mo., Argus: "Let everybody along the Pikes Peak to Ocean Highway congratulate one another. The official records affecting this line are as follows:

"A higher type or primary road is hereby designated between Hannibal and St. Joseph. The road to begin at or near Hannibal and pass through or near Macon, Brookfield, Chillicothe and Cameron to the Buchanan county line east of St. Joseph, making a direct higher type or primary road connection with Chillicothe, Trenton and Excelsior Springs from this destination."

Joplin, Mo., Globe: "An organized effort of more than a year by road boosters of Southwest Missouri to land two of the primary roads to be built out of the $60,000,000 state road bond issue, was awarded when the State Highway Commission adopted in full the recommendations of engineers on routes for the primary road system."

"This gives Joplin and southwest Missouri a north and south primary road from Kansas City through the western tier of counties south to the Arkansas state line, and another from St. Louis to Joplin by way of Springfield. It also virtually assures a hard surfaced road south through MacDonaid County."

Cabool, Mo., Press: "Southern Missouri, which turned in a majority for the road bonds sufficient to overcome the vote with which north Missouri defeated them, got one road from St. Louis to Springfield, which is located along a railroad. They say it was located because of the shorter mileage. How about the mileage to Kansas City? We can turn a right angle in getting to the western metropolis, but we have saved about twenty-five miles from Springfield to St. Louis."

Kansas City, Mo., Journal: "Nothing could be more short-sighted than the threat to tie up the sale of the bonds which will make possible an early start on the great system of good roads approved by the State Highway Commission."

"The policy being pursued by the opponents of the general program is unpatriotic in every sense of the word and it is inconceivable that it should prove successful. Engineer Piepmeyer points out convincingly that the cross-state highway connecting Kansas City and St. Louis bring Jefferson City twenty-five miles nearer St. Louis, being ten miles shorter than any other possible route and fifteen miles shorter than any railroad. In the face of such facts, the rule or ruin policy of the Jefferson City obstructionists will meet with the vigorous condemnation it deserves."

SLIGHT DECLINE

IN LIVE STOCK

Eight Per Cent of Cattle Are on Feed and Fifty Per Cent on Grass.

Missouri live stock increased in numbers during the last quarter slightly less than the proportionate rate of increase for the same quarter in 1921, according to the quarterly live stock survey announced by the Federal State Crop Reporting Service.

Missouri cattle on farms now number 2,964,000, compared to 2,836,000 on April first, and 2,659,000 in January, resulting from births of calves during this period, which was in smaller proportion to the total number of live stock on hand April 1, than the rate in the same quarter of 1921.

The number of cows is now 39 per cent of the total cattle stock, being two points under the proportion in 1921, but this results from a larger total cattle stock on hand.

The number of cattle on feed now is only eight per cent of the total, while those on grass are 50 per cent, being several points greater than last year.

Cattle are in good condition with pastures fine in the best bluegrass sections, excepting that along the eastern border and on much of the Ozark range, grazing is very poor.

Hogs totaled 4,899,000 on July first against 4,866,000 in April and 3,893,000, January first. This increase is due to the increased number of pigs. The birth rate of pigs for the second quarter of 1922 is slightly less than for the second quarter of 1921, based upon the total number of stock on hand April first. However, this actually means a larger number of pigs farrowed during this quarter than for the same quarter of 1921.

Hogs are in good condition, but the death rate during the past quarter is one point above last year, as pigs have continued to die from various diseases.

Missouri sheep total 1,489,000 against 1,583,000 in April and 1,942,000 in January. Ewes total 818,000 compared to 791,000 in April, the proportion to the total sheep stock being two points above that of 1921. Births of lambs during the second quarter of 1922 was six points lower than in 1921, while the number of sheep brought onto farms was above that of last year, but the number sold off was five points greater. The death rate is practically the same as last year. Very little interest is shown in buying stock sheep, excepting in a few counties of the north-west and northeast sections. The intentions to sell about equal the numbers to be bought.

Missouri horses number 877,000 against 867,000 on April 1 and 879,000 on January 1, the increase over the preceding quarter due to foals which were less than in 1921, with the other movements of horse stock on farms being about the same as for the preceding year. The number of breeding stock remains about the same proportion as last year, but mares bred for next year's foals shows a reduction from the preceding year. The number of mules was 395,000, compared to 367,000 on April 1, and 377,000 in January, the increase being due to mule colts, the total of which is slightly less than the proportion of mule

IVAN V. MILLER RETURNS FROM STRATFORD, S. D.

Ivan V. Miller arrived from Stratford, S. D. last night for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Miller. Mr. Miller went to South Dakota last March and has been employed since that time on a farm near Stratford. He says that most of the threshing in his section of the state has been finished and that the wheat turned out an average of about thirty bushels to the acre. The dry weather however, has practically killed the corn crop.

Mr. Miller motored to Maryville and had an opportunity to get a good line up on the crops. Although the corn crop in Dakota does not look so bright, he says that as one comes through Iowa they find splendid prospects for a good corn crop.

He will return to Dakota in a week or ten days to resume his work.
